PEARL JAM ANNOUNCES ITS RETURN TO EUROPE IN THE SUMMER OF 2007

THE BAND WILL HEADLINE SEVEN FESTIVALS AND PERFORM SIX OTHER DATES THROUGHOUT EUROPE BETWEEN JUNE 8-JUNE 29

SEATTLE, WA - Pearl Jam announced today they will return to Europe this summer to perform 7 headlining festival dates and 6 of their own concerts. The 13-date tour kicks off on June 8th at Passeio Maritimo Alges in Lisbon, Portugal and includes dates in Spain, Germany, Poland, Italy, Austria, England, Denmark, Holland and Belgium. There are currently no other Pearl Jam shows scheduled for 2007.

"Our shows in Europe last fall were incredible and gave us the itch to return as quickly as possible to some of our favorite places, as well as visit some cities we haven't been to in awhile," says Pearl Jam manager, Kelly Curtis. "Historically, there have been five years or so between our visits to Europe, so it's a treat to go back again so soon."

Pearl Jam's 2007 European summer tour follows the band's 2006 successful world tour of Latin America, North America, Europe and Australia promoting their critically acclaimed, eponymous record. During August and September of 2006, Pearl Jam played twenty-three concerts in fourteen countries throughout Europe, performing for close to half a million fans.

Public on-sale dates, additional ticket information and opening acts will be announced in local markets in the coming weeks.
